If we take the metro, I think 7:15 would be a good time. I have not been to the national zoo in a long time, so I am not familiar with getting there/ and the location of buildings on site. Bill, you seem much more familiar with the location, any suggestions?

Thanks!

Avivah

The Metro option seems fine. We'll likely have to leave at about 7:15 AM to get there by 8. We should go as a group so that there's no confusion as to how many are coming.

I expect to have a car in our building's garage tomorrow, so that would give us another option. The Woodey Park/Zoo exit is very close to a zoo entrance but is not especially close to where Suzy's office was when last I visited her.

HI Jennifer and Bill-

I just wanted to touch base with you guys abt the trip to the zoo tomorrow. I will be taking the metro from PY to the zoo (I have not worked out the timing for when I will leave PY just yet). I wasn't sure if either of you were planning on doing the same, but if you are I wanted to see if you would like to head over there together. I know that Rusty will be going directly there from his house in the a.m.

Just getting ready to send you an email. We can meet in the Executive Conference Room tomorrow at 8ish. It is on the second floor of the Visitor Center, across from the Director's office. You can get there from either metro stop: Woodley Park or Cleveland Avenue.

I assume there will be 3 people attending?

Suzy

Good Morning Suzy,

Seeing the cubs seems really awesome, though a lot of schedule conflict arise that afternoon and the rest of the week.

I just learned I would be able to get everyone inside the lion house to see the baby lions at 2:30, if you were able to make it in the afternoon instead. We could go inside the keeper area of Great Apes around 2, then to the baby lions at 2:30. Either way, just let me know.

I blocked off 8-12 on everyone's calendar. So we should probably leave the zoo around 11 to make it back to the office in time. Will 3 hours be enough time?
